SELF DEFENSE IS PLEA OF WALTER HUNT

Says Night Riders Fired First Shots Night Bennett
Was Killed.

Had Been on Guard Since Hop kinsville Raid.

IN PADUCAH AFTER KILLING

Clarksville, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Walter Hunt, one of the defendants in the Gardner-Hunt murder trial, was on the stand all yesterday and testified that he shot in the crowd of which Vaughn Bennett was a member, in self-defense, saying they first fired on him and Gardner.

Hunt stated that he was employed by Hayes & Sory, buying tobacco, and on the night of March 9, when Vaughn Bennett was killed, was sleeping at the factory, and caught a message that night riders were on their way to Clarksville, and that they were in the neighborhood of Dr. Crouch's. He knew the country, and volunteered to go. Saw Mr. Sory, who, he understood had charge of the guards, and he said they wanted aid to go after the night riders. He had heard of the depredations committed in that section, also of lawlessness existing near Fredonia, in the interest of the association. Had read reports of raids in Kentucky, and heard they operated through the black patch.

Witness had been a guard since the Hopkinsville raid, and was sworn in by the mayor. Witness understood that Sory had been sworn in as a special sheriff to keep down night riding. In company with John Gardner, he left here in the buggy of the chief of police for the country. They were to try and surround the night riders and arrest them, and no violence was to be resorted to unless they were fired upon. Said they went to Will Crouch's, and while there heard shooting toward Downs.

Go After Gang.

They went across the field towards that place, where it seemed 200 or 300 shots were fired. They came back from the field, as some one had said it was too far to walk, and started down the road to cut off the riders. Moore stayed at Will Crouch's, Gardner and Hunt went to the cross roads. The others said they would go to the other road to protect Morrison's place. Witness and Gardner drove their buggy to a hitching post and came back in an open place in a road, where they sat down. Gardner went to sleep, and witness woke up when he saw two men. The others came up, and they stopped and watched them. While they were watching some one of the crowd said: "Boys, let them have it," and they fired on us and we fired upon them. Said there seemed to be twenty-five or thirty in the gang, and they could hear them talking where the road stopped. They said: "Keep your eyes open and mouth shut."

Witness saw three get off horses and go down where he thought they were going to get over in the field. They whistled and the two men turned back. There was nothing said until the third man whistled, and then the order was given to let them have it. Witness denied having been near the plum bushes. Nobody could hide behind them. Said they had no idea of seeing night riders and were made because they were left there.

Fired in Self-Defense.
He fired five shots and Gardner the same number. He fired to save his life. "When we saw these men stop we stood up and looked, and Gardner said, 'We can't tackle those men; we had better let them go, and find Sory and try to keep Crouch from being burned out.'" Said the two leaders had passed when they shot, and there were twenty or thirty men in the crowd. They were masked, and they wore white cloth on their breasts. Said they had no purpose to fire upon the men at all, and could have fired upon them in the middle of the road as they were only about forty yards away. They had automatic guns. They remained at the scene of the killing about one hour, expecting them to come back. Dr. Crouch, Sory and Will Crouch were there after the shooting, and they went over to see who had been shot.

Gardner struck a match and Will Crouch thought it was Vaughn Bennett. Said no one was with them.

The witness was subjected to a rigid cross-examination. Told of having had a tobacco barn and crop of tobacco destroyed by night riders. He was not a member of the association and had received a threatening letter. He did not tell anybody about the affair that night or the next morning. No one in the party did.

Seven Thousand Paid Admissions to Races During Four Days Meet— Association Officers Are Pleased

Day Spent in Settling Accounts
For Expenses Incurred—
Where the Horses Will Start
Next.

Today was final race day for the promoters of the Matinee club, as all-day they have been busy going over accounts, paying off debts and closing up the books of the meet. As far as finances go the club will have an even break, and the officials are pleased with the attendance, which was about 7,000 paid admissions for the four days. Considering the business conditions Paducah had as nice a little meet as could be held in the country. The attendance was about as large as last year. Not for some time may it be told whether a meet will be held next year, but some of the officials believe that this year will not see the races die. It is also probable that matinee races will be held this autumn, as the taste of the sport has sent up a call for more, and there are enough good horses in Paducah to have occasional meets during the fall.

All of the race horses will be out of Paducah by tomorrow, as the races will begin at Mayfield next week, and also Nashville. Today the horse owners were bustling up their pets and making ready for shipping. Reelfoot and Cyce Jones will be entered in the races at Mayfield by Guy Lee, of Union City, Tenn. Roseboro and Ben Double will also go to the Graves county fair, as will Tommie Pointer. A better showing was expected of Tommie Pointer, but during all of the four days he was at least four seconds slow. Tommie Chichi, winner of two races, will be run at Mayfield, and Mr. A. S. Thompson will take Billy Buck to the capital of Graves county for the races. Messrs. Settle and Wilson have not decided whether they will go to Mayfield or Oran, Mo., where several $300 and $400 purses have been hung up.

The Providence fair will draw a number of the runners. I must will go, as will R. M. Rebo and Bill Shedd from the string of Dickerson & Harris. Brother Breeze and Scorpio will be entered at the same place. I must, the winner of the five-eighths dash on Wednesday, was shipped from Glenhaven, Wis., a distance of 650 miles. He will run in a number of circuits in this state. Baroness may be entered in the Mayfield races, and Frank H. may trot in Mayfield. Other horsemen will scatter to other circuits and several of the horses will be shipped to Nashville for the southern circuit.

A better starter than W. L. Talbot, of Pontiac, Ill., would be hard to find. The local officials are well pleased with his work, and the number of kicks from the owners were few. Mr. Talbot left last night for Chicago, where he will leave for his home, for a few days' rest. It is probable that he will be secured to start the races at Union City, Tenn., where he is wanted.

Secretary George Goodman, who has been a hard worker for the success of the meet, was well satisfied this morning over the showing of the "nicest little meet in the country." "All of the races were good," said Mr. Goodman, "and with one or two exceptions the races were above par."

Waddle Lee, the crack little runner, has been entered in the running races at Nashville. The horse showed splendid speed and would have been winner of three races instead of two had he not gone wide on two different days. With good training he will be heard from.

BIG MEETING OF TOBACCO GROWERS AT PRINCETON

Princeton, Ky., Sept. 19. (Special.)—The Dark Tobacco Protective association held a big rally here today with a large crowd of tobacco growers from Caldwell and adjoining counties in attendance. Congressman Ollie James, Felix W. Ewing, John Ray and other prominent tobacco men were the chief speakers of the day. Deal's band from Paducah furnished the music for the rally, which was the largest attended ever held in Caldwell county.

After a self-defense and then go away and leave him, he replied, "I did." He then told of leaving shortly

FIRST VICTIM.

Postmaster Returns

Postmaster Frank M. Fisher returned last night from Chattanooga after attending the national convention of postmasters. The meeting was a success in every way, and the citizens of Chattanooga extended every hospitality. Mr. Fisher was a member of the nomination committee and did a good part of the work in making up the slate. But one new officer is elected each year, fifth vice-president, as all of the old officials are boosted a round. Robert E. Woods, postmaster of Louisville, a personal friend of Mr. Fisher, was elected fifth vice-president. Mr. Henry Blum, Jr., of Savannah, Ga., was elected president. The state convention will be held at Lexington, Ky., next week. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will attend.

Didn't Know It Was Pooled.
Sapulpa, Okla., Sept. 19.—George Sizemore, nineteen years old, this morning shot and mortally wounded Newton, a younger brother. He didn't know it was loaded.

Fight on Streets.
In a fight yesterday afternoon Sam Everts, who is charged with participating in the robbery of the Bank of Bandana, is alleged to have knocked Henry Reed down with his fist and kicked him in the head with his foot. The fight took place near the city hall and the officials made a hurry run to the scene of the trouble. Everts' case was left open in police court this morning.

SHOOT MOTHER AND GIRL HE LOVED.

Waukeesa, Wis., Sept. 19.—George Smith, aged 60, was captured this morning after holding posess at bay all night in a farm house. Smith fatally shot Mrs. Julius Grabow and wounded her daughter, Olga Grabow, aged 14. Love for Olga, which the mother rejected, caused the shooting.

FORAKER EXPLAINS CONNECTION WITH STANDARD OIL

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—Senator Foraker issued a statement that the certificates of $50,000 given by the Standard Oil company was in connection with the proposed purchase of the Ohio State Journal. The deal fell through and he returned the money, from which he derived no profit and had forgotten the transaction until called to his Washington office by telephone today. He can't remember the letter asking him to kill the Jones bill in the national senate and didn't refer to any employment by the Standard Oil company only the employment that was explained yesterday. He denied that the Standard Oil or any other company or individual ever paid him one cent for public service.

WEATHER.

FOOTBALL SERIES IS PROMISED FOR THIS SEASON

Three Teams Have Already Been Organized With Strong Line-Ups.

Chess Checker and Whist Club
Has Team.

BEGIN PRACTICE AT ONCE

Paducah is promised a good series of football games this fall, if present indications are to be relied upon. Three teams have already donned the moleskins and are taking light work, preparatory to the heavy workouts to come at the approach of cold weather. The Paducah High school team, the Paducah Athletic club and the Paducah Chess, Checker and Whist club all have their prospective material teeming with enthusiasm.

From the outlook it seems that the Paducah Chess, Checker and Whist club will put out the strongest aggregation and will have the heaviest schedule of games. Twenty-five members have started the ball rolling. Active work commences next week, and there being two teams in the Chess, Checker and Whist club, a high order of the game should be developed. The C. C. and W. team will average about 155 pounds this season, and will take on all teams playing in this territory. Games with Murray, Metropolis, Paris, Princeton, Hopkinsville and Cairo are promised. The C. C. and W. team has a number of veterans on the field, and with the new candidates expect to equal the record of the Culley team of last year. Her two ends have a mark of eleven seconds at the hundred yard dash, while her backs are not far behind. St. John, Fisher, Sights, Fitzpatrick and Bagby are looked upon as sure ground gainers. A specialty of the forward pass will be made and spectators given a chance to more clearly understand the execution of plays from this open style of play.

The list of candidates of the C. C. and W. teams includes the following: The veterans, Fisher, Sights, St. John, Donovan, Hayes and Bagby; the novices, Warren, Hughes, Shannon, Singleton, Fitzpatrick, Chastain, Diehl, Kidd and Elliott.

W. P. Sights has been elected captain of the squad and R. L. Culley manager. Practice will be done mostly at night with the "spook ball," which was such a success last year. The "spook ball" being white, enables the players to accomplish as much by night as the regulation ball does in the day. The teams deserve good crowds this year, insuring the bringing of good teams to the city.

Greatest Since Lincoln

New York, Sept. 19.—Success magazine publishes an interview of H. B. Needham with Roosevelt which quotes the president as saying Taft will make the greatest president except Washington or Lincoln. Says Taft has his own way of doing things. "Perhaps Taft's way is better than mine, but I have to do things my own way."

Taft Wants to Visit Western Kentucky and May Come to Paducah During Next Month

F. M. Fisher Expects Letter Containing Definite Information on the Matter Within Week.

It is possible that Paducah may be honored by a visit from William Howard Taft, while he is on his southern swing. This bit of pleasing news was brought back today by Postmaster Frank M. Fisher, who returned from Chattanooga, where the national postmasters' convention met. At the meeting he received the direct tip from a personal friend that Judge Taft has a warm spot in his heart for Western Kentucky and that he has spoken of speaking at Paducah. Mr. Fisher lost no time in writing a letter urging the Republican presidential nominee by no means to avoid Paducah if possible. However brief, the visit would draw a monster crowd to hear the advocate of Roosevelt's policies.

At present Judge Taft is making a swing through the western states and he will not begin his southern tour until next month. If Paducah is visited by the Republican nominee it will be sometime between October 1 and October 15. It is expected to hear more definite news in a few days, and the date will be announced. His southern tour is one of prominence, and it is expected to swing many voters to the Republican ticket.

Accepts Challenge.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 19.—Judge William Schwing accepted the challenge of B. C. Leblanc to fight a duel. They were opponents for judge in the recent primary. The challenge grows out of Schwing's charges of fraud in the primary. The men have named seconds and say they will fight soon despite interference.

JUDICIAL CANDIDATES

SPEAK AT PALMA.
Palma, in Marshall county, was the scene of a lively debate and speaking today between Judge Reed and John G. Miller, candidates for circuit judge, and Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett, and Ed H. Puryear, candidate for the nomination of commonwealth's attorney. The speaking was well attended as it was Saturday.

PUBLISHING CO.

SENDS BALLOTS FOR STRAW VOTE

To ascertain the sentiment of nearly every voter in the United States for president, Funk & Wagnalls Co., one of the largest publishing concerns in the United States, have sent out one million blanks for the purposes of printing in the early future an immense "straw" presidential vote.

This is a huge undertaking but the company desires to learn the decision of one million voters in the country. The company avers that there are sixteen million voters in the United States and it has planned to send one ballot to one in every sixteen voters. Then, after the task has been completed and the "straw" voters have all been returned, it will publish the result in the Literary Digest.

Many Paducahans have received the "straw" ballots and are answering them. Dr. S. B. Pulliam received one this morning and at once filled out the blank with his choice and mailed it back to the publishers. The names are not to be published, only the total of the votes from each state. The certificates read: "Kindly write your vote for Taft or Bryan or other candidate."

Continues Experiments

Washington, Sept. 19.—Charles Flint, who is backing Orville Wright financially, announced that Willbur May will return from France to complete Orville's experiments. It will be months before Orville can complete tests which Willbur may take up to prevent delay. Willbur sent word from France that he will carry and Concerns.

Investigations Were Ordered by President.

DISCLOSURES ARE STARTLING

New York, Sept. 19.—A startling discovery has been made by the federal grand jury investigating the General Electric company and a half dozen other electric concerns, with a view of establishing an illegal trust. It is declared evidence has been found that will indict several leading electric financiers. Startling disclosures are expected. President Roosevelt ordered the investigation despite opposition from many advisers who believed the move would have a disastrous effect on the campaign. The president, irritated by delays of other trust prosecutions, insisted on pushing the investigation.

The boy left home Tuesday for the races and said he would not come home until the races closed. He remained away every day and Mrs. Iseman directed Officer Nelson to bring the boy home. The lad gave the officer a merry chase but Mr. Nelson was too swift for him and soon corraled him.

SOME GOOD RACING MARKS LAST DAY

Billy Buck Loses Trot By Breaking Gait.

Judge Calls Running Race Off Because of Apparent Crooked Work of Jockey Who Was Fined.

HORSES SHIPPED AWAY TODAY

THE WINNERS.
Free-for-All Trot—Red Wood,
owned by Dr. Ripley, of Evansville,
Time, 2:16 1/4.
2:20 Pace—Sadie K., owned by C.
W. Bush, of Murfreesboro, Tenn.,
Time, 2:13 1/4.
Five-eighths Dash—Race declared off.
Three-fourths Dash—Tomo Chichi, owned by W. V. Dasey, of Atlanta.

Friday's races, which closed the fall meet, were up to the average, and the large crowd was given a run for their money. The free-for-all trot was the main attraction, and the warmest heat that was run during the entire series was when Billy Buck went home in the third heat.
The big crowd turned loose and the cheers and applause that met the Paducah horse were deafening. Billy Buck had almost an even chance to win the big trot, but at critical times he broke, and the honors went to Red Wood, a horse shipped from Evansville yesterday especially for the race.
The only dissatisfaction was when in the five-eighths mile dash Scorpio was pulled twice and to avoid crooked races it was declared off.

The free-for-all trot was the main race and first on the program. The entries were: Billy Buck, owned by A. S. Thompson; Frank H., owned by M. P. Rucker, of Uniontown; Red Wood, owned by Dr. Ripley, of Evansville; Prince of Pilsen, owned by Ed Smith, of Evansville.

In the first heat Frank H. drew the pole and Billy Buck on the outside.
The horses were off for a good start but Frank H. took the lead. Red Wood went after first place, but made a break and Frank H. took a splendid lead. Once more Red Wood worked nicely and went up and robbed Billy Buck of second place.
Time of heat, 2:17 1/4.

In the second heat they were off quickly with Billy Buck a little back.
Red Wood was in the lead with Frank H. pushing him all the time.
At the three-quarter mark Billy Buck jumped up and went into the bunch.
Billy Buck went under first by a nose and beat Frank H. He lowered the track record held by Snider Mc-Gregor from 2:16 1/4 to 2:16 1/2.

The third heat was the most exciting of all the races during the meet. The horses went off with Red Wood in the lead and Billy Buck in second place. Billy Buck closed up the distance on the first round and went like a watch. Billy Buck made one break on the last turn, but was steady in a few seconds, and on the home stretch beat Red Wood for first place, amid long cheers.
Time of heat, 2:18.

Billy Buck led in the fourth heat,
but Frank H. crept in the lead. Billy Buck was first to break, but in a second Frank H. broke and Red Wood took the lead. Red Wood broke too, but settled quickest, with Red Wood in the lead Billy Buck showed a fine spurt, but on the last turn he broke and Red Wood won easily. Time of heat, 2:20 1/4.

In the fifth heat Red Wood lead off with Billy Buck right on his wheel. On the first half mile Red Wood was first with Billy Buck second. Billy Buck broke at a critical moment and Frank H. went to second place. He pushed forward, but Red Wood won the heat, which decided the race.

The 2:20 pace was another good race with good horses entered. The entries were: Sadie K., owned by

C. W. Bush, of Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Cayce Jones, owned by Guy M. Lee,
of Union City, Tenn.; Kitty Blossom, owned by R. P. Fitzgerald, of Cairo; Daisy N. W., owned by W. Leadbetter, of Cairo; Timmie Pointer, owned by F. V. Glass, of Sharon, Tenn.

Kitty Blossom had the pole and all of the horses had an even start. The horses were well bunched, but Sadie
K. went under first, with Cayce
Jones second and Timmie Pointer a close third.

In the second heat it was a tight between Sadie K. and Cayce Jones.
Cayce Jones went to lead at five-eighths mark but broke at the three-quarter, and Sadie K. took the lead and won by half a neck. Time of heat, 2:19.

The third heat decided the race.
Sadie K. and Cayce Jones had another warm battle. Sadie K. was a better horse, and won on speed.
Sadie K. was good on the home stretch, while Cayce Jones gained more speed on the turns. The time of the heat was 2:13 1/4.

The three-fourths mile dash was a good race with the following entries:
Tomo Chichi, owned by W. V. Dasey, of Atlanta; Sir Walter Rollins,
owned by A. B. Campbell, of Union
City, Tenn.; Louise K., owned by Hays & Gatlin, of Paris, Tenn.; Ionia, owned by H. C. Small, of Mayfield; Beacon Light, owned by I. K. Porter, of Paris, Tenn.

The horses were started after a trespassing delay. When the grand stand was passed Tomo Chichi led,
with Louise K. second and Ionia third.
Tomo Chichi held the lead all the way, but on the home stretch Sir
Walter Rollins nosed Louise K. out of the way for second place. Time of race, 1:17.

The five-eighths mile dash was the only race that caused contentment.
In the first get-away Rebo took the lead, but Scorpio finished first and Brother Breeze second.

The entries were: Scorpio, owned by S. James, of Ridgeway, Ill.; B. M.
Rebo, owned by Dickerson & Harris;
Brother Breeze, owned by S. James,
of Ridgeway, Ill.; Abe Gooding,
owned by A. B. Campbell, of Union
City. On the first round Scorpio finished first with Brother Breeze second. It was plain that the jockey on Brother Breeze held back and waited and the judges declared bets off, fined Brother Breeze $10 and decided to run the race over. In the second round Scorpio was first most of the way but the jockey sat down and held him back, while Brother Breeze finished first and Scorpio finished second. The work was unsatisfactory and the judges called the jockey to the stand. The race was declared off and the crowd left with a whoop for home.

The officials of the races yesterday were: Starting Judge—W. L. Talbot, of Pontiac, Ill. Judges—Mr. W. J.
Bass, Oco Alexander and T. J. Stahl.
Timers—Deputy Sheriff Hume Ogilvie and Dan Fitzpatrick. Field Secretary—Gardner Gilbert.

COOKING EXHIBIT

Opening Day Sept. 21st TRY BEFORE YOU BUY Closing Day Sept. 26th

COMMENCING Monday, September 21st, and ending Saturday, September 26th, we inaugurate a Cooking Exhibit and Demonstration which will be alive with interest for housewives who appreciate fuel economy and convenience in a range. Come and see how easy it is to handle; how little fuel it uses; what delicious biscuit it bakes. The range used for demonstration purposes will have only a paper smoke pipe, proving conclusively that all the heat stays in the range and is utilized in cooking. A visit to this demonstration is bound to impress you, but the best way to test a stove after all is to use it. To show the implicit confidence we have in the 20th Century Steel Laurel Range we will place one in your home Free of Charge and let you try it till you are satisfied that it will do all we claim for it. If you are dissatisfied with it, we will bring it back to the store without any cost to you whatsoever. Isn't that offer fair enough to try? We believe you will agree that it is, especially after you see the range work in the demonstration.

We are going to show just what can be done with the splendid

20th CENTURY STEEL LAUREL RANGE

Why Laurel Ranges Are Best and Cheapest

They have the famous Laurel two-flue construction which heats the covers of the top instead of the usual two. It insures even heating of the oven bottom, making it a perfect baker and absolutely preventing warping.

Oven top plate is filled with fire-proof cement which makes it last forever and insures even baking on the oven shelf.

The body is made up of two 3/8 inch planished steel plates, with 1/4 inch asbestos filling between, thus retaining all the heat and making it available for cooking.

Has the famous pouch feed door, which insures perfect distribution of the fuel on the grates, and thorough combustion of every ounce of fuel.

Because no other stove or range on the market today has these and many other meritorious features. They mean money saved for you.

"The Only Real Way to Test a Stove is to Use It"

We will show you what a Fuel Saver this Range is, how biscuits can be baked, using only a paper smoke pipe and how strongly it is made.

This will be the most practical Cooking Exhibit ever made.

REMEMBER

During this reception, if you purchase one of these Ranges, you will be presented with a handsome set of

The Week In Society.

The Point of View.

A day!
There's much to be done in a day.
Ourselves to make,
We brew and we bake
Or otherwise toil for our pay.

A day!
Oh, what's to be done with the day?
We can half of it kill
At the club, if we will,
And the rest at some darned matinee.

A day!
Each looks at it in his own way.
But envy I can't
The world-weary and
With nothing to do except play.

A Sailor's Christening.
"The late Bishop Potter once in his early days had occasion to officiate at a christening in a small fishing village on the Massachusetts coast," says a writer in the current issue of Harper's Weekly. "The proud father, a young fisherman, awkwardly holding his first-born daughter, was visibly embarrassed under the scrutiny of the many eyes in the congregation, and his nervousness was not decreased by the sudden walling of the infant as they stood at the font."

"When the time for the baptism of the babe arrived the bishop noticed that the father was holding the child so that its fat little legs pointed toward the font."

"Turn her this way," he whispered, but the father was too disconcerted to hear or understand.

"Turn her feet around," the bishop whispered again; but still there was no response. The situation was fast becoming critical, when an ancient mariner in the back of the church came to the rescue. Putting his weatherbeaten hand to his mouth he roared across the room, "Head her up to the wind, Jack!"

"I wish," said the eviator, "to give my airship an original name suggestive of swift flight."

"Call it Money," replied his backer, sardonically.—Kansas City Times.

Daily Thought.
 Don't make up your mind until you hear the other side of the story.

ENGLISH POLITICS.
 In a discussion of English politics reviewed in the Review of Reviews for August, a writer comments on the fact that English people take more active interest in politics than any other people on earth. In national and municipal elections alike the whole populace is early aroused over the issues, and every voter participates. He attributes this interest to the fact that there is never anything involved in an English election, besides the comparative qualifications of the candidate and the issues of public policy. Even in a national election no more than 30 offices can change hands.

There is much truth for our digestion in this statement. Public patronage has become too great an issue in all our elections—national, state and municipal. The people generally have lost faith in political promises and lack interest in the result, excepting when some personal advantage, or the element of personal friendship enters into the situation.

It may be said that one of the evils of our political system is the rank development of a national virtue—constancy of friendship. For instance, take a municipal election in Paducah: Two men are candidates for mayor; one is well qualified, the other is not. A personal friend of ours is an applicant for a position on the police force. He is in hard luck. He has befriended us on occasions and under such circumstances that we cannot deny him a favor. If the unfit candidate is elected mayor, our friend gets the place. Otherwise he does not. We vote against the dictates of conscience and patriotism, we forget our country and our own personal interests for the sake of friendship. There are 20 men on the police force, there are the men on the fire department, there are candidates for public municipal boards and all the employees of the street and sewer departments, working for somebody for mayor through the plea of personal friendship to secure the mayoralty for somebody, possibly unfit for the place, and we jeopardize the city's welfare and the moral environments of our children, to give somebody we like a job on the police force.

The man who wants a job, the interest that wants a franchise, the fellow that wants a license, the concern the questions of public policy are smothered under the crushing weight of selfish greed, and the very thing that would interest the citizens, simply as citizens, is lacking in our affairs.

In a measure this evil is inherent in the Democratic form of government, but its excessive development will eventually force us to modify it in some way, or lose something of our liberty.

JACKSON ON DEPOSIT GUARANTY
 What would Andrew Jackson say of this deposit guaranty idea of Bryan's? That rough old statesman had an aversion to government administration of the banking business, either directly, or we believe, in the guise of a guaranty of deposits.

We remember a grandfather, who interspersed stories of the Bible with fond reminiscences of "Old Hickory," and we own to a lineage that was Democratic when Democracy was something fundamental; when her policies were the policies of the country and her leaders the champions of progress. And their measure adjusted to conditions as they found them, not hard set or vacillating. We could conceive of those ancient Democratic leaders, today, with the fears of the unknown that begot state rights dispelled, turning to centralization of authority and co-operation under existing circumstances; but embracing anything that smacks of paternalism—never!

Government regulation of banks is one thing, and government administration of banks another. The government would administer this deposit fund; first, for the benefit of the depositor, and then to recover as much as possible from the bank's assets to reimburse the guaranty fund. The national guaranty fund would put all banks under the federal authority and it doesn't take a wise man long to see where that road leads to. Once embarked on a course that puts the federal government actively in the administration of the banking affairs, there is no end to the accretion of powers. We never knew a government yet to acquire express powers without assuming a lot more by implication and such other extensions as from time to time might seem advisable to whomsoever has the authority.

TENTH DISTRICT

REPUBLICAN LEADERS ARE VERY OPTIMISTIC.

Meeting Held at Mt. Sterling and Plan of Campaign for Taft and Langley Formed.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 19.—Republican leaders representing every county in the Tenth congressional district met here and formed a plan of campaign for Taft and Langley. The reports from the various counties were highly encouraging, and the district is counted safe for the Republicans.

In the Big Sandy valley Congressman Langley will receive an increased vote. The plan of campaign was kept secret, but the Republicans are sure of victory than ever before. The Tenth district is claimed by 1,000, and is now being polled by school districts. Langley will speak throughout the district during October. Democrats are without funds, and there is no enthusiasm for Judge Davis. The meeting was in session most of the day.

SEATS CHANGED

TO REMOVE CROWDED CONDITION OF WASHINGTON

School—Large Corner Rooms Will Be Given Primary Grades That Are Overcrowded.

In order to eliminate the crowded condition of several rooms in the Washington building, Superintendent Carnegie decided to have 200 seats changed today. Some of the first grade rooms are overcrowded and the pupils will be moved to large corner rooms, but the small desks will have to be changed too. Fred Hoyer, superintendent of buildings, has been busy all week changing desks and repairing broken windows. Moving 200 desks in a day is a big job, but Mr. Hoyer has become accustomed to it since the school session opened. No teacher has been secured yet by Superintendent J. A. Carnegie to take the place of Miss Susan E. Smith, teacher of modern language. Telegrams have been sent and agencies have responded that they would try to fill the place, but no teacher has been secured. The sudden resignation has annoyed the school officials, but the best will be done possible. At the meeting of the Jefferson School Improvement League yesterday it was decided that the basement of the building was not in the most

The Port of Missing Men.

By Meredith Nicholson,
 Author of "The House of a Thousand Candles."

"Where is M. Chauvenet—have you any idea?"
 "If he isn't at the hotel or in Washington, I'm sure I don't know. If we are going to the dance?"
 "Plague the dance! I heard a shot in the sheep pasture a bit ago and ran out to find this fellow in a row with another man, who got away."

"I heard the shot and the dogs from my window. You seem to have been in a fuss, too, from the looks of your clothes." And Shirley sat down and smoothed her gloves with provoking coolness.
 Dick sent Oscar to the far end of the library with a gesture and held up the message for Shirley to read.
 "Don't touch it!" he exclaimed, and when she nodded her head in sign that she had read it he said, speaking earnestly and rapidly:

"I suppose I have no right to hold this message; I must send the man to the hotel telegraph office with it. But where is Chauvenet? What is his business in the valley? And what is the link between Vienna and these hills?"
 "Don't you know what you are doing here?" she asked, and he flushed.
 "I know what, but not why," he blurted irritably. "But that's enough!"

"You know that Baron von Marhof wants to find Mr. John Armitage, but you don't know why."
 "I have my orders and I'm going to find him if it takes ten years."
 Shirley nodded and clasped her fingers together. Her elbows resting on the high arms of her chair, she looked away from her shoulder. At the end of the room, with his back to the portiere, stood Oscar, immovable. Claiborne examined the message and extended it again to Shirley.
 "There's no doubt of that being Chauvenet's writing, is there?"
 "I think not, Dick. I have had notes from him now and then in that hand. He has taken pains to write this with unusual distinctness."
 The color brightened in her cheeks suddenly as she looked toward Oscar. The curtains behind him swayed, but so did the curtain back of her. A May time languor had crept into the heart of April and all the windows were open. The blurred murmurs of insects stole into the house. Oscar, half forgotten by his captor, heard a sound in the window behind him and a hand touched him through the curtain.

Claiborne crumpled the paper impatiently.
 "Shirley, you are against me! I believe you have seen Armitage here, and I want you to tell me what you know of him. It is not like you to shield a scamp of an adventurer, an unknown, questionable character. He has followed you to this valley and will involve you in his affairs without the slightest compunction if he can. It's most infamous, outrageous, and when I find him I'm going to thrash him within an inch of his life before I turn him over to Marhof!"
 Shirley laughed for the first time in their interview and rose and placed her hands on her brother's shoulders.
 "Do it, Dick! He's undoubtedly a wicked, a terribly wicked and dangerous character."
 "I tell you I'll find him," he said tensely, putting up his hands to hers where they rested on his shoulders. She laughed and kissed him, and when her hands fell to her side the message was in her gloved fingers.
 "I'll help you, Dick," she said, buttoning her glove.
 "That's like you, Shirley."
 "If you want to find Mr. Armitage?"
 "Of course I want to find him!" His voice rose to a roar.
 "—then turn around; Mr. Armitage is just behind you!"
 "Yes; I needed my man for other business," said Armitage, folding his

"Yes; I am both those things, Captain Claiborne. But I am also in a great hurry. What do you want with me?"
 "You are a rogue, an impostor!"
 "We will grant that," said Armitage. "Where is your warrant for my arrest?"
 "That will be forthcoming fast enough. I want you to understand that I have a personal grievance against you."
 "It must wait until day after tomorrow, Captain Claiborne. I will come to you here or wherever you say on the day after tomorrow."
 Armitage spoke with a deliberate sharp decision that was not the tone of a rogue or a fugitive. As he spoke he advanced until he faced Claiborne in the center of the room. Shirley stood by the window, holding the soiled paper in her hand. She had witnessed the change of the men at the end of the room. It had touched her humor. It had been a joke on her brother, but she felt that the night had brought a crisis. She could not continue to shield a man of whom she knew nothing save that he was the object of a curious enmity. The coup de theatre by which Armitage had taken the place of his servant had amused her for a moment, but she was vexed and angry now that he had dared come again to the house.
 "You are under arrest, Mr. Armitage. I must detain you here," said Claiborne. "In America—in free Virginia—without legal process?" asked Armitage, laughing.
 "You are a housebreaker, that is enough. Shirley, please go!"
 "You were not detached from the army to find a housebreaker. But I will make your work easy for you—day after tomorrow I will present myself to you wherever you say. But now—that cable message which my man found in your sheep pasture is of importance. I must trouble you to read it to me."
 "No!" shouted Claiborne.
 Armitage drew a step nearer.
 "You must take my word for it that matters of importance, of far-reaching consequence, hang upon that message. I must know what it is."
 "You certainly have magnificent cheek! I am going to take that paper to Baron von Marhof at once."
 "Do so—but I must know first! Baron von Marhof and I are on the same side in this business, but he doesn't understand it, and it is clear you don't. Give me the message."
 He spoke commandingly, his voice thrilling with earnestness, and jerked out his last words with angry impatience. At the same moment he and Claiborne stepped toward each other, with their hands clinched at their sides.
 "I don't like your tone, Mr. Armitage."
 "I don't like to use that tone, Captain Claiborne."
 Shirley walked quickly to the table and put down the message. Then, going to the door, she paused as though by an afterthought and repeated quite slowly the words:
 "Winklered—Vienna—not later than Friday—Chauvenet!"
 "Shirley!" roared Claiborne.
 John Armitage bowed to the already vacant doorway, then bounded into the hall out upon the veranda and ran through the garden to the side gate, where Oscar waited.
 Half an hour later Captain Claiborne, after an interview with Baron von Marhof, turned his horse toward the hills.
 (To be continued in next issue.)

"You are a rogue, an impostor!"

"We will grant that," said Armitage.

"Where is your warrant for my arrest?"

"That will be forthcoming fast enough."

"I want you to understand that I have a personal grievance against you."

"It must wait until day after tomorrow, Captain Claiborne."

"I will come to you here or wherever you say on the day after tomorrow."

"Armitage spoke with a deliberate sharp decision that was not the tone of a rogue or a fugitive."

"As he spoke he advanced until he faced Claiborne in the center of the room."

"Shirley stood by the window, holding the soiled paper in her hand."

"She had witnessed the change of the men at the end of the room."

"It had touched her humor. It had been a joke on her brother, but she felt that the night had brought a crisis."

"She could not continue to shield a man of whom she knew nothing save that he was the object of a curious enmity."

"The coup de theatre by which Armitage had taken the place of his servant had amused her for a moment, but she was vexed and angry now that he had dared come again to the house."

"You are under arrest, Mr. Armitage. I must detain you here," said Claiborne.

"In America—in free Virginia—without legal process?" asked Armitage, laughing.

"You are a housebreaker, that is enough. Shirley, please go!"

"You were not detached from the army to find a housebreaker."

"But I will make your work easy for you—day after tomorrow I will present myself to you wherever you say."

"But now—that cable message which my man found in your sheep pasture is of importance."

"I must trouble you to read it to me."

"No!" shouted Claiborne.

Armitage drew a step nearer.

"You must take my word for it that matters of importance, of far-reaching consequence, hang upon that message."

"I must know what it is."

"You certainly have magnificent cheek!"

"I am going to take that paper to Baron von Marhof at once."

"Do so—but I must know first!"

"Baron von Marhof and I are on the same side in this business, but he doesn't understand it, and it is clear you don't."

Van J. Davis qualified as administrator with the will amended of James Owen, deceased.

In Circuit Court.

Friday being the last day in which civil suits can be filed to get on the appearance docket of the September term of circuit court, suits have been piling in thick and fast.

The Globe Bank and Trust company filed suit against George H. Brown and Annie May Brown for $536.65 claimed due on a promissory note. The bank claims a mortgage on lot 23 in block 2 in the Fountain park addition, property of the defendants.

Dr. H. P. Sights filed suit against the Casualty Company of America for $515, which he claims is due on an accident policy. Dr. Sights was injured March 10, 1908, on a railroad train, sustaining a fracture of two ribs. He states that the policy was in effect at the time and provided for a remittance of $25 per week in case of injury. He says the company refused to pay him and he was laid up many weeks and delayed from his profession.

F. E. Unselt sues A. F. Hill for $197 claimed due on a promissory note, only $150 of which has been paid. He asks for the enforcement of a lien on property of the defendant on the Hinkleville road to satisfy the amount.

Asking for the amount of her debt against Henry Kirksey in preference to claims of other creditors, Susan Shelton sues Sheriff John W. Ogilvie, W. M. Ross, W. A. and Julia McCune, the Continental Insurance company, Henry Kirksey, R. H. McGuire and H. Rampenhill, of Metropolis. She says that on January 28, 1907, she got an execution in her favor against Henry Kirksey for $80, and the sheriff levied on two rats in Clark's river, property of Kirksey. The remaining defendants, she says, have claims and she asks for her amount first.

Henry Beach and W. M. Husbands filed suit against G. Wilson. Beach asks for payment of $79.29 due on a promissory note, while Husbands asks for $30 for legal services in the litigation between Wilson and H. C. Shaffer. He asks for the enforcement of a lien he retains on the property of Wilson.

Dewey Maple, aged 10 years, through her father, Arthur Maple, sues the Paducah Traction company for $5,000 damages claimed due as the result of being shocked by a live wire at Ninth and Kentucky avenue August 4. The boy states that he was confined to bed for six weeks after the shock and suffered serious burns on the hands, arms and feet, and is still affected from it.

C. D. Robertson, a partner with W. R. Katterjohn, sues Katterjohn for his interest in an automobile garage recently established at Sixth and Jefferson streets, and asks that a receiver be appointed to settle the business. Robertson states that he entered into a contract with Katterjohn May 28 to establish a garage. He says that on September 15 he gave notice to Katterjohn that he wanted to dissolve partnership and now claims that his partner immediately took steps to sell the interest of both and deprive him of his part. He says the business has been conducted at a profit of $500.

Mary Duke Williams instituted suit in the circuit court Friday afternoon against Eva B. Winfree to enforce payment of a bonded debt of $1,700 and asks for the lien on the property of Mrs. Winfree at Twelfth and Jefferson streets be enforced. Mrs. Winfree executed to the Globe Bank and Trust company bonds of $200, $500 and $1,000, giving a mortgage on her property. Mrs. Williams later purchased the bonds and claims them still unpaid. The property, according to the suit, cannot be sold without impairing its value.

Then Bacon filed suit for divorce against his wife, Mary, claiming that she was insane and incapable of managing her person and property.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Gov. Haskell, of Oklahoma, said "Hearst's statement is false and he knows it," referring to the statement that Haskell is mentioned in the complaint of Attorney General Monett, of Ohio, that Haskell was concerned in the offer of $100,000 to influence Monett's action in the Standard Oil suit. The man meant was another Haskell, and that fact explained at the time and also during Haskell's campaign in Oklahoma.

Cincinnati, Sept. 19.—Senator Foraker issued signed statements in reply to Hearst's Columbus charges that he was a paid servant of the Standard Oil company. He terminated his connection before the end of his first term in the senate and has never served the Standard since.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

No old sore can heal until the cause which produces it has been removed. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., may reduce the inflammation and assist in keeping the place clean, but cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach its source. Old sores exist because the blood is infected with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place. The nerves, tissues and fibres of the flesh are kept in a state of irritation and disease by being daily fed with the germ-laden matter through the circulation, making it impossible for the sore to heal. S. S. S. cures chronic sores by its purifying action on the blood. It goes down into the circulation, and removes the poison-producing germs, impurities and morbid matters which are responsible for the failure of the place to heal. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy; then as new, rich blood is carried to the spot the healing process begins, all discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, new tissue begins to form, the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh, and soon the sore is permanently cured. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, the safest and best blood purifier for young or old. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

A Trap For Mosquitoes.
Mosquitoes being one of the pests of the tropical countries Maxwell Lefroy of the Indian entomological department has made a special study of their destruction and has been particularly successful with the novel method of trapping them. He uses a box about a foot square, which has a hinged lid with a small aperture that can be closed by a slide. This box has a bottom of tin and the sides are lined with green baize. Set in a dark corner of the room, the simple apparatus proves an attractive relax for the insects seeking to hide from the sunlight on entering the house in the morning. They soon collect inside, and when all have settled a teaspoonful of benzine is poured in, and the lid is closed. The prisoners are quickly suffocated. Mr. Lefroy continued setting his trap as long as the mosquitoes were troublesome, and in thirty-one days destroyed over 3,100.—Kansas City Journal.

A little ancient faith is worth a lot of modern theory.

WALTER HUNT ON WITNESS STAND

Volunteered to Go Out on Raid on the Night Riders.

Attorneys Attempt to Establish Fact of a Conspiracy, but Court Overrules.

ARGUMENT OF ATTORNEYS.

Clarksville, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Near the entire session of the criminal court was taken up in the argument over the admission of testimony in the Gardner-Hunt trial. Walter Hunt, one of the defendants, was placed upon the stand and stated that last March he was buying tobacco for Hays & Sory. He was sleeping at the factory on the night of the shooting and heard of the night riders being out. He volunteered to go if needed. He saw Ben Sory at the police station and understood he had charge of the guards.

He said Sory told him he wanted aid to go out to Dr. Crouch's and Morrison's. He had heard of letters sent to Crouch and of lawless acts committed in that section and of other depredations in the Fredonia vicinity in the interest of the association. He had read of reports of raids in Kentucky towns and through the Black Patch.

The state objected to the question: "Is it a fact of common knowledge that throughout the Black Patch burning, killing and outrages of various kinds had been committed?" and the court ruled it irrelevant. Then followed the retirement of the jury twenty minutes after Hunt had been placed on the stand and argument of counsel until noon, when court adjourned until 1:30.

Claims a Conspiracy.
Mr. Leech, of the defense, said they proposed to show the conspiracy against Clarksville and who was at the head of it, and that men would be introduced who have been with night riders and turned state's evidence. They were not after the lawful element of the association, but the lawless element.

H. M. Weems and W. M. Daniel spoke in support of the question, and Mr. Savage argued for the state, insisting that depredations committed in Kentucky had no connection with the case. The court sustained the state's objection.

The New Campanile.
The rebuilding of the Campanile at Venice has made rapid progress during the last twelve months, and it has now attained a height of 150 feet. By the end of 1909 the main portion of the tower will be finished, and the marble loggia which will surmount the tower will be begun.

This time ample precautions have been taken to insure the stability of the Campanile, all the bricks being chemically tested and subjected to high pressure before being used. The old pile work was in excellent state of preservation.

A gilded statue of the Virgin in terra cotta, which was a special object of veneration, and which was broken in more than 4,000 pieces in the falling of the tower, has been put together again with infinite patience by experts, only the little John the Baptist by her side being irretrievably lost. It was practically reduced to dust. The statue of the Virgin will occupy relatively its former position in Sansovino's famous loggia.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Given under my hand as clerk of said Court this 16th day of September, 1908.

HEDGES KILLING

WILL BE INVESTIGATED IN NICHOLAS COUNTY.

Grand Jury in Session Will Take Up Work Where Last One Left Off.

Carlisle, Ky., Sept. 19.—The docket of the Nicholas circuit court for the September term, which will convene Monday, September 28, will be closed by Circuit Clerk Solomon Robertson.

It is thought that the grand jury will again investigate the killing of Hiram Hedges, who met his death at his home in this county one night last March at the hands of unknown persons supposed to have been night riders. The last grand jury investigated the killing, but, notwithstanding the fact that a hundred or more witnesses were examined, they were unable to return any indictments.

JEFFERSON SCHOOL

IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE HOLDS SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

Many Interesting Addresses on Problems Confronting Teachers and Patrons.

A most successful meeting of the patrons and teachers of the Jefferson school was held Friday afternoon and much interest was manifested in the wonderful improvement of the building since the last school term.

Mr. Carnagey, superintendent of the city schools, was most cordial in his words of commendation for the changes wrought, and gave emphasis to the great value cleanliness and beauty had in the child's education. He expressed the opinion that the Jefferson school came nearer being what a building should be than any in the city, and hoped what had been done was but a beginning toward better things.

Mrs. Hannah Boudie in a fine paper on "Teachers' Problems" urged fuller co-operation between parents and teachers, particularly with reference to discipline, and she expressed the idea of how idleness was prolific of discord in school, and she expressed the hope that parents would help the teacher in procuring material for some industrial work for the children by adopting a savings bank plan for the school children.

Mrs. M. S. Garrou in a good paper on "Parents' Problems" urged that parents know the teachers better and have the child to feel that there was fullest sympathy between teacher and parent for the child's good.

Dr. Delia Caldwell delighted all present with a fine talk on "Health Problems" at the conclusion of which Mr. Carnagey invited her to address the parents at the Washington building on similar questions—those of ventilation and temperature of school rooms, proper recreation for teachers, overcrowded school rooms, parents overlooking defects in eyes, ears, nose and throat of children which caused dullness in lessons and caused epidemics of disease among school children.

Altogether the beginning of the monthly parents' days was most auspicious. The meeting was presided over with much dignity by Mrs. Hal Corbett, president of the Jefferson school league.

CHRIST AN ARYAN

Declares Professor at Religious Meeting in England.

Oxford, England, September 19.—The International Congress of the History of Religions, the sessions of which began Tuesday, was aroused to a high pitch of excitement yesterday by the paper presented by Prof. Paul Haupt, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, in which he endeavored to demonstrate by a process of ethnological reasoning that Christ was not a Jew but an Aryan.

Prof. Haupt's paper provoked the keenest discussion, but he refused to be drawn into racial arguments. Dr. M. Gaster, the noted Jewish writer and lecturer, was his most impressive opponent. He pointed out that in all their accusations, the Jews never reproached Jesus with a proselyte ancestry, and that the omission of such evidence was highly significant. Not a single delegate supported the theory of Prof. Haupt, which entirely failed to convince the congress.

RUFÉ A. VEAL

DIES OF HEART TROUBLE AT HOME ON CLAY STREET.

Had Been in Failing Health Several Months—Was an Expert Tobaccoist.

Rufe A. Veal, one of the best known tobaccoists of Paducah, died at his home, 1113 Clay street, this morning at 4:50 o'clock of heart disease. His wife and little son and his mother were at his bedside when the end came.

Mr. Veal was the oldest son of Augustus N. Veal, local salesman for the Dark Tobacco Growers' association, and was one of the most popular tobacco men in this section. He was 31 years of age and born in Vealsdale, Graves county. At the age of 16 years he moved to Murray, Ky., with his parents. He came to Paducah 5 years ago where he continued in the tobacco business with his father. He was an expert tobaccoist and worked with his father at the local salesrooms of the tobacco association.

Mr. Veal had been failing in health for some time and several weeks ago he was forced to abandon his work on account of heart trouble. He was able to be up, however, until Wednesday when he was forced to take to his bed. Being aware that he was not to live much longer, Mr. Veal pointed out the spot in Oak Grove cemetery where he wanted to be buried last Sunday while out driving with his wife.

About ten years ago he was married to Miss Mary Boyd at Murray. He was formerly connected with Allison & Mankin, prominent tobacco dealers here. He leaves a wife and son, Alfred, aged 8 years. Dr. Mason was married eight years ago to Miss Myrtle Miller, daughter of Hon. R. C. Miller, of Puryear, Tenn., to whom was born two little girls, Mary and Ruby.

While Dr. Mason had not been feeling well for several days he had been able to continue his immense practice.

Thursday night he retired and told his wife not to allow anyone to disturb him as he was feeling bad. During the night Mrs. Mason was attracted by his heavy breathing and attempted to rouse him. Finding she called his father and in the morning other medical aid was summoned but without avail.

Ed Mason, as he was familiarly known to his friends, was a generous, true hearted gentleman and numbered his friends by his acquaintances. In a professional way he ranked with the best physicians of the county and answered the call of the poor as readily as he did that of the rich, was as a fragrant flower to the pitiful suffering and will be sadly missed in his community.

The funeral was conducted this afternoon by the W. O. W., of which order he was a very prominent member, at 4 o'clock. The burial was in the Hazel cemetery.

REV. L. D. BASS

DISCHARGED BY EAST ST. LOUIS CONGREGATION.

Didn't Like the Sensational Utterances of Minister Well Known in Paducah.

Sensation mongering in the pulpit has been properly rebuked by the congregation of the First Baptist church of East St. Louis, which has discharged its pastor, the Rev. L. D. Bass, because of his methods of attracting attention to himself by his wild utterances and sensational texts.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasite germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ. Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.

Destroy the cause, you remove the effect.

Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. R. W. Walker Co., Special Agents.

In his sermons, says the Belleville, Ill., Record.

The congregation of the church voted to accept the Rev. Bass' resignation at its last meeting, although the same had not been tendered. The pastor was notified of this yesterday and declared he would leave.

The straw that broke the camel's back was in a sermon some few Sundays ago, in which the pastor said no respectable girl would work in an office or in any business where she was thrown into daily association with men.

Some of the Reverend Bass' sermons were extremely sensational and many of them were published in the newspapers. He came to East St. Louis last April from Cairo, Ill., and one of his first sermons attracted attention because he took the stand that no respectable girl would allow a man to kiss her before she was married to him.

In another sermon he said that no respectable girl would work in a public office. This caused great indignation and the Win One club, a church organization, refused to contribute to the salary of the Reverend Bass or to the church so long as he occupied the pulpit.

When the Reverend Bass preached his trial sermon in East St. Louis before being called to the pulpit, he made a most favorable impression. Shortly afterwards he preached a sermon in Cairo to the effect that hired girls should not attend church.

This sermon created a big sensation and some of the Chicago papers devoted a whole page to it. The article was seen by some of the women members of the church in East St. Louis and this is said to have started the trouble.

After the Reverend Bass was called to East St. Louis, he preached many other sermons, extracts from a number being published in various St. Louis newspapers. Members of the congregation claimed that some of these extracts were not from the Reverend Bass' sermons at all but were given out to draw people to the church.

Within the last few months it is said that the attendance has fallen off 25 per cent.

Kodol will, without doubt, make your stomach strong and will almost instantly relieve you of all the symptoms of indigestion. Get a bottle of it today. It is sold here by all druggists.

APOLOGY

DEMANDED OF BEN RINGO BY DR. NOWLIN.

Owensboro Minister Says Attorney Must Retract Statements or Suffer Consequences.

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 19.—"I call upon you to make your apology to the clergy through the press of Owensboro, where your assault was published, saying it was done ignorantly and without malice. Indeed, you must do this or suffer the consequences of your folly."

This is the close of an open letter to Commonwealth's Attorney Ben D. Ringo, who denounced ministers who dived in statecraft. The alleged assault was made when Mr. Ringo was making an argument against a change of venue in the Anderson bank-robbery case.

Dr. Nowlin is moderator of the Kentucky Baptist association and is one of the most prominent members of the denomination in the state. His card is taken to mean that he will speak from the stump against Ringo's re-election. Mr. Ringo will not notice the minister's letter.

Menu of Straight Pictures

The class of Moving Pictures exhibited at The Kentucky costs $100 and express charges per week and are furnished by the largest and greatest film jobbing houses in America, a member of the Association of Film Manufacturers, operating under a license granted by the Edison Manufacturing Co. This doing away with scratched, worn or ancient subjects classed as "junk," usually renting from $15 to $30 per week. That the management of The Kentucky does pay a weekly rental of one hundred dollars and express charges for its film service can be verified by inquiry at the office of the American Express Company, permission being hereby granted to divulge such information.

This menu of straight pictures consists of the following choice selections:

COMEDY—The cleverest sketches taken from the realms of fancy and woven into possible actualities.

TRAGEDY—The cleanest and best, always pointing a moral and adorning a tale, fit to be seen by the tenderest mind.

FARCE—The purest nonsense, constructed for no other purpose than to extract a healthy and hearty laugh from the grouch-struck individual and make of that individual a regular patron.

TRAVELS—Far-reaching scenes, taking in all the nooks and corners of the universe—veritable educational tours highly instructive, introducing the beholder to all countries on the face of the globe, their people and customs.

FAIRY TALES—The sweetest of childhood memories, in hand-colors, pleasing alike to the young and old, toning the moral system of each according to individual needs.

HISTORICAL—Great battles on land and sea. Lives of great characters with all the traits and noble deeds of heroism that caused their names to be inscribed on the tables of fame.

ONLY TWO WEEKS

September 21st to October 3rd

2:30 to 5:30

Afternoon and Evening

7:30 to 10:30

10 CENTS—ADMISSION—10 CENTS

The Return Engagement

In the return engagement of the "Show That Talks for Itself," after a recent engagement marked by brilliant success, the promoters and owners of the Cameraphone Territorial Rights, have temporarily cancelled a two weeks' booking at East St. Louis, in order to comply with an almost unanimous request that it may be seen and heard again in Paducah.

The Cameraphone is Perfection in the Art of Montography

Magnificent Program

The program for the return engagement, Monday, September 21, to Saturday, Oct. 3, inclusive, will consist of better subjects of more select and greater diversified character than exhibited on the first occasion, the Cameraphone company expressing a willingness to send its latest and best productions as a recognition of the splendid patronage accorded the "EIGHTH WONDER OF THE WORLD" during the two weeks, Aug.

17-29, at The Kentucky, when the total paid admissions reached 24,128, the daily average being 2,010.

The Last Appearance

This will positively be the last appearance of the "Talking and Singing Picture" in Paducah for some time to come, as the present Moving Picture season at The Kentucky will be brought to a close Saturday, October 3, the theater then to be thrown open for the regular fall and winter theatrical attractions.

Big Double Bills

In connection with the "Talking and Singing Picture," the regular, or straight Moving Picture and Illustrated Song program will be presented at each and every afternoon and evening performance during the two weeks' engagement.

Change of Program

The program of the "Show That Talks for Itself" will be changed three, possibly four times each week, the changes occurring on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, the ordinary Moving Picture and Illustrated Song program to be changed every day.

Amateur Contests

This entertaining feature was inaugurated and brought to its present high-standard of excellence, as well as the improvement in the Moving Picture business, by the manager of The Kentucky. These semi-weekly exclusive contests will be regular Tuesday and Friday night features as heretofore. The prizes are: $5.00, $3.50, and $2.00 to the three best—all relatives, or others who have appeared elsewhere in the city since September 1st. When this announcement of the exclusiveness of The Kentucky Amateur Contests was publicly made from the stage, being debarred from contesting. Consolation prizes of $1.00 will be awarded all those who fail to secure one of the three first prizes awarded by the audience.

The Kentucky is the only house holding Amateur Contests that does, or has ever publicly announced from the stage, in the press, or through the medium of printers' ink, the amount it gives in cash prizes, the imitators along this line, contenting themselves with insignificant sums of money, governing their action in the premises generally by the size of the house.

As was also publicly announced at the time of the exclusive feature of the Kentucky Amateur Contest was made, all Young Ladies, or Misses that appear in the Amateur events are eligible to contest for a Solitaire Diamond Ring, Tiffany Mounting; the ring to cost not less than $35.000. The question of selection being left to the successful one, the purchase to be made at some jewelry store in Paducah of their own choice. The contest to be determined by ballot. Voting to begin Monday, Sept. 28, and terminate Oct. 3, when the award will be made from the stage approximately at 8:15 p. m. All purchasers of tickets of admission to the evening performances will be entitled to one ballot, while those attending the afternoon performances will be entitled to two votes. Voting will commence and end the week of Sept. 28 and Oct. 3. All ballots are to be cast into a locked and sealed receptacle, which will be opened every morning by three citizens, the votes counted and the results placarded in the lobby of the theater.
